John M. Patterson, of Cincinnati, has been nominated by the Democrats of Ohio for Governor.

The International Sunday School convention in session at Toronto has held the triennial convention since 1892.

The German press exhibits great irritation toward England, which is accused of a design to enslave France and Germany.

It is thought probable that Engineer Wallace has concluded, after a week's experience that the Panama Canal is an impracticable scheme and he therefore gives up the job to avoid responsibility for failure of the biggest job ever undertaken by a government.

A Chicago man advises those who are economically inclined to marry small women, because her clothes cost less than the same quality for a large woman would cost. Those Chicago fellows ought to know, as each of them to marry a variety of sizes and Mr. J. J. Sold.

Mr. Wallace, the distinguished engineer appointed to take charge of the construction of the Panama Canal, has thrown up the job. France did the same thing. It is altogether probable that we shall find old Senator Morgan was right in his great and unselfish fight for the Nicaragua route.

It is reported that Chinese sentiment in opposition to the exclusion laws of the United States is growing fast, and is unfettered in many ways, to the detriment of American interests in the Orient. The exclusion of Chinese coolies from Hawaii and the Philippine Islands is regarded as particularly obnoxious. The Chinese government is being urged by many of its subjects to take a firm stand in the matter.

Russia has notified President Roosevelt of the tentative selection of M. Neidoff and Baron Rosen as her plenipotentiaries to discuss peace with the representatives of Japan. It is believed that Japan's selection, also tentative, are Baron Komura and Minister Takahira. It is expected that both Russia and Japan will consent to an official announcement in a few days. The President is urging the plenipotentiaries to arrange for a meeting of the plenipotentiaries on August 1.

CARD OF THANKS.

We most sincerely wish to thank our friends and neighbors who assisted us in our troubles during the illness of our father and husband, who departed this life June 29th. May the Lord bless them and keep them in our prayer.

N. J. Carter, Cadmus, Ky.

The Song of the Hair

There are four verses. Verse 1. Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the hair grow. Verse 2. Ayer's Hair Vigor stops falling hair. Verse 3. Ayer's Hair Vigor cures dandruff. Verse 4. Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color to gray hair. The chorus is sung by millions.

Before using Ayer's Hair Vigor I had very thin and very dry hair. But I continued to use it until my hair grew again and was as thick and as soft as when I was a young man. I have used it for years. H. H. DUBOIS, New York, N. Y.

KANSAS CITY

As First Seen By A Kentuckian.

June 28th 1905.—I arrived in Kansas City May 31st. Was met at the depot by friends. Kansas citizens have nothing to be proud of in their depot. "The old hick," as they call it, is soon to be replaced by a very beautiful depot which will cost five million dollars, and is expected to be as handsome as the noted St. Louis depot.

Southern and Eastern people have very little conception of what is in the west. I myself must acknowledge that I was greatly surprised to find such a wide-a-way, up-to-date, city as I found Kansas City to be, with her beautiful hotels, stores, bank buildings, educational system, libraries, parks and miles of boulevards. Among the public buildings you will find the building of the Fidelity Trust Co., to be as handsome as anything in the east, though not as large. The inside of the building is almost entirely finished in white marble.

Kansas City people should be very proud of the beautiful store of Enery, Bird & Thayer. It is a handsome six story building, and has a very elegant tea room, which will seat one thousand people. Many a third house-keeper goes down there to get a daintily served lunch, and while she watches the throngs of people come and go she forgets her household duties.

The boulevard system here is greatly admired by visitors as well as enjoyed by the residents. The city is entirely crossed by a continuous line of boulevards, lined on each side by magnificent homes, among them being the home of Mr. Nelson, who owns the "Kansas City Star." This is certainly a palace, and his grounds, which consist of many acres, are decked in nature's richest robes, beautiful roses and flowers of every description, grown in greatest profusion in these lovely grounds. The works of man are truly great and wonderful, but as nothing compared to old mother Nature. In drinking in the beauty and splendor of the scene I was charmed with the picture, and thought what a study it would have been for some of our famous landscape painters.

Touching on the religious element of Kansas City. If the number of churches is any criterion, I should judge that the religious feeling keeps abreast with the commercial, as there are 186 churches, among them the Christian Science Church, costing $225,000. They have various religious institutions, with all the many advantages. No city could boast of more when you take into consideration the size of the place and the time it has been accumulating all this mass of wealth. A few years ago Kansas City had a boom which crippled it greatly, but since that time very rapid strides have been made and this little city promises in time to rank as one among the best in the Union.

We feel safe in saying without a doubt that Kansas City within the next five years will be one of the six leading cities of the United States. Lizzie Hatten.

J. F. Smith died at his home in Rps self after a lingering illness, aged about twenty years. Mr. Smith's illness dates back about two years, when he was severely injured on the C. & O. railroad, since which time he has been gradually failing in health.

The Republicans of Floyd county, met at Laynesville, June 3rd, and nominated the following ticket: For County Judge John Hamilton, for County Attorney, Wm. Dingus, for County Clerk, Malone Hall, for Assessor, J. A. Hall, for Superintendent of schools, Willie Elliott.

"Fred Jarret, aged 21, Ashland, Ky., jumped on an N. & W. train at Barger, near Williamson, W. Va., Wednesday evening and had both feet mangled off at the ankle. He was removed to the company's hospital at Welch, W. Va.," says the Portsmouth Times.

Campton, Ky., June 22.—Samuel Napier, a farmer living in a cornfield near his home, Friday, by some unknown person who is still at large. The ball entered the back between the shoulder blades and lodged near the heart.

Physicians were immediately summoned, upon examination pronounced the wound fatal. There is no clue as yet.—Mingo Republican.

Paintsville.—W. I. Mayo, his sister, Miss Fannie Mayo, and cousin, Miss Ella Hurt, of this city, have gone to Virginia, where Miss Mayo is to entertain a small house party at the plantation of her brother, Jno. C. Mayo, about twelve miles from Richmond. Miss Louisa Collier, of Hazardsburg today, and Miss Mabel Shemmaker, of Castle Woods, Va., will meet them at Richmond, and they will all go by boat to Virginia, the southern home, where they will be met by Mr. and Mrs. Vincent, who will spend the summer at the Mayo people's home at Louisa Drug Co.

Campton, Ky., June 22.—The derrick on the Nickell farm, on Grassy creek, Morgan county, where J. H. Brush is drilling for oil, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The well was near completion, being five feet in the oil sand, and a good flow of gas had been struck. Curtis Pieratt, of Hazardsburg, was in the derrick watching drilling, and while standing near the well struck a match for the purpose of lighting a cigarette, when the gas caught fire, burning the derrick to the ground.

Samuel Spencer, of this city, one of the boys from the camp have vacated, and the young ladies left this morning, laden with enough good things to last several days. Their outfit consisted of dark blue suits and sun hats, and the young ladies were chaperoned by Mrs. R. P. Moorhead and Mrs. J. B. Crabbs. The young ladies composing this party were: Helen Selp, Helen Chadwick, Lorraine Young, Stella Taylor and Edythe Hayes. Master Jack Taylor went with them.—Ashland Independent.

The two Paintsville, Ky., banks have consolidated and the Citizens Bank will go out of existence.

The Paintsville Sunday Schools picniced at Cliffside Park Tuesday. The party consisted of 210 children and adults. A rate of 50c for children and $1 for adults was made for the round trip.

Deputy United States Marshal Mays captured Curt Lacey in Wolfe county mountains. Mays destroyed 600 gallons of beer, which he found in a still located in a cornfield in Owsley county. Also Thacker, an alleged moonshiner, was captured.

at the time of the fire, received slight burns. A new derrick will be built at once and the well completed.

Incorporation articles were filed with the Secretary of State at Frankfort by the Southgate Land Company and the Park City Oil Company, both of Ashland, Boyd county. Each has $25,000 capital stock.

The railroad track is now laid to the mouth of Marrowbone Creek which is only about seven and one half miles from the terminus at Elk-horn. Engineers are busy on Marrowbone Creek staking out the work of grading the road bed which is to be built up that creek and information is that the work is to be commenced at once. As soon as the bridge across Marrowbone Creek can be put in place they will proceed with the main line to Elk-horn City. Now if the Seaboard Air Line will come through the Breaks and thus make a through line to the coast, the Sandy valley would be a still richer gold mine than it really is, however, we have nothing to grieve at and it would be pigish to ask for a more promising future than we now have before us.—Pikeville Items, Charlottesville Press.

BUCKSVILLE.

The Children's Day service held here two Sundays ago was the best of the kind here since the introduction of Children's Day service. Every one performed his part perfectly. Collection good.

The recent rains have wrought much damage to our country by the high tides caused, and the washing of the soil from the hill lands. Yet the crops look prosperous, and potatoes, and oats are far above the average.

Luther Laney and bride of only a few hours, passed here Monday evening enroute for home near Ivory. This is the second set of matrimonial harness placed upon the groom, the first for the bride who was Miss Hale, daughter of Ira Hale. They have the congratulations of all and the good wishes for a long and pleasant journey through life. It looks as if it could work fix another week soon.

There will be an ice cream festival at Evergreen church at Forks of Little Blaine on Saturday night July 8th at which time all the delicacies of the season will be served. No pains will be spared to make this the most enjoyable event of the entire season, and all who miss it will regret it. Come everybody and enjoy a few hours of the finest and rarest feast you ever had and with little expense. Come all, as you are needed. The church needs your assistance.

SCHOOL BOOKS AND SUPPLIES.

School books and all kind of supplies will be on hand at Conley's store, Louisa, in time for the schools beginning in July.

Next to Wayne, Wolfe county, in the upper Kentucky oil field is "making good" at a better rate than any other division. Although the last division to obtain pipe line connections, so rapid have been developments that the county now alternates with the Bath-Rowan division as second in the list of oil-producing counties. Not a great number of wells have been drilled, but the strikes are of good calibre and produce regularly an average amount of oil, without showing a decrease. Several concerns are now drilling in that field and this month six strikes have been made. One strike was registered last week, good for 25 barrels.

The grade of oil found in Wolfe county differs slightly from the other light-grade product of Kentucky and is found in a deeper sand, but the same price is commanded by both the lighter grades. The average depth of Wolfe county wells is 1,000 feet, which makes the bringing in of a well more expensive. Between 40 and 50 wells have been drilled during the past fifteen months.
